

The Netherlands ready for 'second time'

Reddingsbrigade Nederland (KNBRD) is ready for the 2009 EJC. 'We're looking forward to welcoming life saving teams from European nations next September,' says Jolanda van Dalen. Jolanda is board member for sport and project manager for the EJC 2009. Jolanda: 'We hope that all the teams that joined the 2008 EJC will be back for another exiting championship. We also hope that last years success draws some other teams to the 2009 edition. And we are ready for it.' The project team is assisted by a trainee from the 'Fontys' sports academy. It is Peter Linssen who will work on a daily basis for the championship. He started working on April 20 and will put a lot of effort and quality into the project. Peter is a fanatic football player who is active in this for 4 – 5 days a week. For his final assignment in the sports academy he looked for a project that stood close to his field of study: 'Sportive recreation and sport stimulation'. Peter will be fully active for the EJC 2009 on: web site, PR/Communication, merchandising, and other fields.

To assist the project group there are two working groups that have become active in the middle of April. This completes a simple and direct organization to make a compact and within budget organization of the EJC 2009 possible.
